

Access to Justice Project

NOWPDP became a support organization for the Access to Justice Project that the Asia Foundation is conducting across 10 districts in Pakistan. Karachi is one of the districts with its own Legal Aid Center that NOWPDP aims to support by recommending best practices for improving service delivery to people with disabilities, raising awareness of their service and referring potential cases to them.