

Employment Generation Project

NOWPDP's employment generation project aimed to promote the employment of people with disabilities. NOWPDP attempted to amplify the capabilities of people with disabilities by encouraging, educating, and partnering with employers to hire them. The objective being to develop an employment model, taking into account the challenges being confronted by both the employer and the employee and how to scale this on a national basis in partnership with other organizations.